Use the clues to determine in what order Rosa cleaned her home and did her chores.

After her family ate and left for work or school, Rosa cleaned up the kitchen. Before doing some laundry, she made the beds. On her way to the bedroom, she threw away some old newspapers lying on the table. She did her work quickly, because she wanted to watch a talk show on TV. Before watching the show, she ran the vacuum and watered the plants. In between vacuuming and watering the plants, she did a little dusting.

Story 6 Slow Down Campy!

Dawson Dog was skating down the sidewalk one day when a gust of wind flew by him. It was Campy Cat riding on a skateboard.

Dawson Dog was so startled by Campy that he almost fell down. He got back on the skateboard and down the street he went. He was mad at Campy for being so rude.

Up ahead in the distance, Dawson noticed a group gathering around something. When he got a little closer, he could see that Campy Cat was in the middle of the crowd. Campy had been in an accident.

Dawson rushed to Campy's side and helped him up. Luckily, Campy had only sprained his ankle. "Next time, Campy," said Dawson, "you need to slow down and be careful!"

By the time Campy got home, he had forgotten why he was in such a hurry. Campy's sore ankle reminded him to slow down and to be careful for a long time after that day.

Questions:

1. In what way was Campy rude to Dawson?
2. What happened to Campy?
3. Why do you think Campy had an accident?
4. What do you think Campy learned from this?
5. Do you think Campy could have prevented his accident?

Story 7 The Big Snowstorm

Rita Rabbit felt the cold breeze on her back as she busily searched for food. She had worked hard all year to make sure she had plenty of food to last all winter long.

Randy Rabbit rocked lazily in his hammock as he watched Rita work. Randy thought Rita was silly for working so hard.

"I'll wait until fall before gathering food for the winter," said Randy. He was in no hurry to do anything at all.

Before fall was over, a big snowstorm hit the forest. The snow caught everyone, except for Rita, by surprise. The snowstorm was so bad that it seemed like a blizzard. The cold winds blew and the snow fell for many days.

Randy ran out of food the first day of the snowstorm. After three days without food, Randy knew that he would have to begin his search for something to eat. He walked about one mile before he collapsed. He was too weak to continue.

Luckily for Randy, he had collapsed in front of Rita's door. Rita found Randy right away and carried him inside.

When Randy awoke, he saw a huge bowl of vegetable soup in front of him. He gobbled up the soup and thanked Rita for saving his life.

Randy Rabbit finally realized why Rita worked so hard all year long. As soon as he felt better, Randy began to work hard, gathering as much food as he could. Randy knew that someday he might be able to help someone, just as Rita had done for him.

Questions:

1. What did Rita do all year long?
2. What happened to Randy during the snowstorm?
3. Why did Randy think Rita was silly?
4. What kind of lesson do you think Randy learned from this?

Story 8 Bogie Is All Tied Up

Leonard the Lion was walking down the road one day when he ran into Bogie, the boa constrictor. Bogie was tied in a knot and stuck in a tree. He asked Leonard for help.

Leonard looked at Bogie and wondered how he had gotten stuck in a tree. Bogie told Leonard all about the mean monkeys who had done this to him.

Leonard untied Bogie and gently lowered him down to the ground. When the monkeys saw Bogie on the ground again, they wanted to have some more fun with him. Just as the monkeys got closer to Bogie, Leonard roared with all his might.

"Leave my friend, Bogie, alone," he shouted. Leonard's roar scared the monkeys so much that Bogie never had to worry about those mean monkeys again.

Questions:

1. What was Leonard doing when he saw Bogie?
2. Why was Bogie in the tree?
3. What did Leonard do to help Bogie?
4. Why will the monkeys never bother Bogie anymore?
5. How do you think Leonard felt after helping Bogie?

Story 9 Billy Bob Builds a New Home

Billy Bob, a cheerful beaver, was building a new home for his family. Billy Bob had worked hard all week long making sure that everything was perfect. He dammed the stream with trees he had cut down to make a little pond for his family to enjoy. Billy Bob built his house right in the middle of the pond.

Just when Billy Bob was about to finish his house, Finney Fox came storming up the path. Finney looked very angry.

"So that's what happened to my water," Finney yelled. "I couldn't even wash my face or brush my teeth this morning!"

Billy Bob was startled by Finney's surprise visit. "I'm very sorry," Billy Bob said. "I'll fix that right away."

Billy Bob quickly picked up his shovel and started digging a small ditch in the ground. Soon a stream of water was moving again.

"You should have running water now, Finney," Billy Bob said.

Finney Fox thanked Billy Bob for taking care of his problem so quickly. He then shook hands with Billy Bob and complimented him on building such a wonderful house.

Questions:

1. What was Billy Bob building?
2. Why was Finney Fox mad?
3. Explain how you think beavers build their homes.
4. How do you think Billy Bob felt when Finney Fox yelled at him?
5. How do you feel after you've finished doing something important?

Story 11 The Toothache

One night Robbie Rabbit woke up screaming in pain. "Ow, my tooth hurts!" he screamed.

Mother Rabbit rushed to Robbie's bed to see what was the matter. When she saw Robbie holding his cheek and screaming, she knew that his tooth was bothering him. Mother Rabbit gave Robbie an ice pack to put on his cheek and told him to get some sleep. "We'll have to go to the dentist tomorrow," she said.

When morning came, Mother Rabbit went to see how Robbie was doing. Robbie was wide awake and tried to smile. "My tooth doesn't hurt anymore," he said.

Mother Rabbit knew that Robbie's tooth really did hurt. He was just afraid to go to the dentist.

"You don't need to be afraid of the dentist," said Mother Rabbit. She told him that the dentist would help him feel better.

Mother Rabbit took Robbie to the dentist. Robbie opened his mouth and the dentist saw the problem right away.

"You need a filling," the dentist told Robbie. "I'll have this finished in no time."

Robbie sat nervously as the dentist worked on his bad tooth. Before Robbie knew it, the dentist was finished! Robbie's tooth didn't hurt anymore.

"You should always come in for your check-up so that we can prevent problems with your teeth," said the dentist.

"Yes sir, and thank you for fixing my tooth," said Robbie.

Robbie liked the dentist. After that day, Robbie never forgot to go for his regular dental check-ups. He never had to worry about having a toothache again.

Questions:

1. What was Robbie afraid of?
2. What did Robbie's mother make him do?
3. Do you think Mother Rabbit really did know what was best for Robbie?
4. What do you think Robbie needs to do to prevent toothaches?
